there is the sun
 away from the mountains and the sun i'm sitting in the dark
 the green turned into grey in this small and peaceful town
 i stand so tight
 though the wind wants to blow me away
 and let the wind blow me anywhere
 still there is a light
 there is the sun in my heart i cannot differ the time i'm just living without it the daytime is dark in my world but i'm starting to like it
